2/3/06	R02-01-011	Order Instituting Rulemaking regarding the implementation of
--------	------------	--

the suspension of direct access pursuant to Assembly Bill 1X and Decision 01-09-060.

Summary: On January 31, 2006, David Weisenberger, Chairman of the Power and Water Resources Pooling Authority (Pooling Authority) met with Cmmr. Brown in San Francisco. Also present were David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, and Kent Palmerton, general manager, Kiergan Pegg, participant of, and Scott Blaising, counsel for, the Pooling Authority. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Weisenberger noted that Pooling Authority serves various water agencies that have historically received preference power from the Western Area Power Administration. Blaising responded to Pacific Gas and Electric Company's (PG&E) claim that preference power issues are 'akin' to municipal departing load issues, explaining that the Pooling Authority preference power issues are distinct from municipal departing load issues. Palmerton mentioned that the Pooling Authority remains willing to work with PG&E in order to properly distinguish the Pooling Authority's preference power issues from other departing load issues.

City of Petaluma, for an order authorizing the relocation of one at-grade crossing of the tracks of the Sonoma Marin Area Rail Transit District in the City of Petaluma, County of Sonoma.

Summary: On February 1, 2006, Jose E. Guzman, Jr., special counsel to the City of Petaluma, sent to Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey, a written communication (attached to the notice) via facsimile transmission. The communication contained a suggested language revising the draft decision.

Summary: LATE FILED. On January 30, 2006, Mike Healy, a member of the City Council of the City of Petaluma (City) and of the Board of Directors of the Sonoma Marin Area Rail Transit District (SMART), met with Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey, at the site of the proposed crossing of Caulfield Lane in the City of Petaluma. Also present were Kelly Hymes, advisor to Cmmr. Grueneich, Belinda Gatti, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, David Stewart of the Rail Crossings Engineering Section, Michael Bierman, the City Manager, David Schonbrunn of TRANSDEF, and Vincent Smith and Paul Andronico of Basin Street Properties. The City representatives explained that the expiration feature of the draft decision made it difficult for the City to proceed with development plans of the Lower Reach because it could not risk landlocking present and future residents and businesses should the automatic expiration be triggered by the institution of SMART passenger service on the line. The City's representatives proposed that as long as the City re-applied for authorization for the crossing within the period prescribed by the decision, the authorization for the crossing would not automatically expire.

Summary: SUMMARY: LATE FILED. AUGMENTATION REQUIRED. On January 30, 2006, Jose E. Guzman, Jr., special counsel to the City of Petaluma (City), met with Belinda Gatti, advisor to Cmmr. Brown. Guzman stated that the condition that the authorization for the crossing expires as soon as passenger train traffic is initiated on the line was inconsistent with the Commission's approval of other at-grade crossings with no conditions. Guzman explained that the condition providing for the expiration of authority for the crossing placed the City in an untenable position of not being able to move forward with the residential and commercial developments in the City's Lower Reach because of the risk of the crossing being closed and the residents and business in that area becoming landlocked. Guzman stated that the expiration feature of the draft decision was not necessary.

Summary: On January 31, 2006, David Schonbrunn, President of the Transportation Solutions Defense and Education Fund (TRANSDEF), attended an all-party meeting with Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey, at the site of the proposed crossing in Petaluma. Also present were Belinda Gatti, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, Kelly Hymes, advisor to Cmmr. Grueneich, David Stewart and Eric Juul, rail crossings engineers with the Consumer Protection and Safety Division, Mike Bierman, the City Manager, and Michael Healy, Councilmember, of the City of Petaluma, Vin Smith and Paul Andronico for Basin Street Properties, and Lucrecia Milla and Michael Strider, PE, of the Sonoma-Marin Area Rail Transit District (SMART). On the same date of January 31, 2006, Schonbrunn had a separate meeting with Kelly Hymes, advisor to Cmmr. Grueneich. During the all-party meeting Schonbrunn supported the expiration provision of the draft decision (DD) as a mechanism to ensure that the City would pay for the safety improvements needed when passenger rail service starts. Schonbrunn explained that it would not result in the closing of the crossing and the landlocking of businesses, as long as the City mitigated the safety impacts on SMART. Schonbrunn stated that the worst case scenario was that the City would have to build a grade separation. In the discussion with Kelly Hymes, Schonbrunn explained how the DD could be a model for a new Commission policy placing the on-going financial responsibility for the safety of new at-grade crossings squarely on applicants.

Summary: On January 31, 2006, Mark Moench, General Counsel of MidAmerican Energy Holdings Company (MidAmerican), met with Robert Lane, advisor to Cmmr. Bohn, in San Francisco. Also present were Brent Gale, Senior Vice President of MidAmerican, Andrea Kelly, Managing Director for Strategy of PacifiCorp, and Michael B. Day of Goodin, MacBride, Squeri, Ritchie & Day, LLP, outside counsel for MidAmerican and PacifiCorp. Day explained the Applicants' concerns with the draft decision's (DD) requirement that applicants commit to waive their right to advocate a change in the regulatory treatment of the acquisition premium. MidAmerican and PacifiCorp endorsed the statement of the DD that both the costs and benefits of the acquisition should be allocated at the holding company level and urged the Commission to make this statement part of the order. Kelly and Gale also explained the Applicants' concerns regarding the DD's inaccurate treatment and characterization of Commitment 23 and Commitment C-14.
